Top Models Strut NYC Runway

A cocker spaniel named Daphne was crowned the Top Dog Model in the third annual contest founded by Jo Jo Merdo, a fashion stylist and writer from Boca Raton, Fla.

The 2007 theme was "Start with Style" and Daphne and finalist Sasha, a Shih-Pin (Dogsell) breed from Pearl Pleasant, N.J., traveled to New York City to model catwalks on the runway at the second annual Pet Fashion Week in August.

Daphne splits her time between Palm Beach, Fla., and New York with owners Jeremy Wizen and Cynthia Wizer.

Daphne, America's Top Dog Model 2007, was in her first runway show at Pet Fashion Week NY.
