

Get Set for America's Top Dog Model 2014

By Alissa Wolf March 12, 2014
My Bio | Headlines | RSS

Follow me on:
f t g+

Free Pet Shops Newsletter!
 Sign Up

Ads: Americas Next Top Model Luxury Dog Collars Mobile Dog Grooming Vans Becoming a Model Dog Grooming and Boarding

Posh pooches can once again vie for the honor of being America's Top Dog Model now that the 2014 contest is under way.

This year's theme is Healthy Paws, with an emphasis on how dogs and humans keep each other healthy.

Prizes will include being on the cover of the organization's calendar, a story in Pet Style News magazine, a custom piece of doggie bling from Lola's for Pets and more.

Pictured above is the doggone stunning Daphne Simone, 2007 winner.

As you may remember, the Boca Raton, Fla.-based organization, which was launched by former human model and pooch lover Jo Jo Harder, celebrates the loving bond between humans and dogs.

The organization also supports a variety of animal welfare and pet rescue causes.

The contest runs through April 30.

For more contest details, info about how to enter and official rules, please see the website.

Photo courtesy of Dean Payne

Please sign up for my newsletter

Join Alissa: Facebook | Twitter | Google+