The 11th annual dog-modeling calendar is seeking haute "dogs with jobs" to show off their "Helping Paws," the socially conscious theme of the 2015 America's Top Dog Model Contest. To support four-legged candidates everywhere, the America's Top Dog Model Co. has expanded to include a dog model agency and an online store in concert with its 2015 search for the most beautiful working pooches in the USA.

"Whether originally bred for working in the fields, hunting wild game or even just comforting the queen of England, throughout history, dogs have played a significant role in humans' lives," said Jo Jo Harder, CEO of the Boca Raton, Fla., company. "Dogs are considered members of the family, and they help people in a variety of ways that can extraordinarily enrich our lives."

America's Top Dog Model Contest mission is to "celebrate dogs that make a difference in people's lives," and 2015 "Helping Paws" contestants can have actual employment or volunteer as service, therapy, rescue, police, military or reading dogs—or can be photographed professionally demonstrating a human job that owners imagine would be a good fit.

Contest prizes include the cover of America's Top Dog Model Calendar, a photo story in Pet Product News International, custom jewelry from Lola's for Pets, a $125 gift certificate from Kelly Owens Couture, a designer ensemble from Fashion Tails Boutique, a tiara or crown from America's Top Dog Model, designer hat and sunnies from Roni Goldberg Designs, America's Top Dog Model signature accessories and an autographed copy of "How to Become a Top Dog Model."

Eleven finalists will be featured in the calendar and at americastopdogmodel.com, and also will receive a Celebipaws rhinestone tank.
