The canine-loving creators of the glamorous America's Top Dog Model, a Boca-based dog modeling competition, will unleash a reality series on YouTube on August 7 titled How to Get to the Top! The show is a lighthearted romp featuring competition winners and their humans as they embark on a journey to stardom. Founder of America's Top Dog Model JoJo Harder stated, "The series is an opportunity for aspiring canine models, including rescues and mixed breeds, to be celebrated." Established in 2005 and recognized internationally as a premier dog brand, America's Top Dog Model winners are selected for their style, stories, star qualities, training, charities, and best photographic portrayal of the contest theme. The 2019 National Pup Star winner Moto Girl will be in the 5-episode series along with 11 other fetching finalists. For more about the series visit americastopdogmodel.com.
